Poetry.

Common Sense.

She came among the gathering crowd,
A maiden fair, without pretence,
And when they asked her humble name,
She whispered mildly, "Common Sense."

Her model garb drew every eye,
Her ample cloak, her shoes of leather—
And when they sneered, she simply said,
"I dress according to the weather."

They argued long, and reasoned loud,
In dubious Hindoo phrase mysterious,
While she, poor child, could not divine,
Why girls so young should be so serious.

They knew the length of Plato's beard,
And how the scholars wrote in Saturn;
She studied authors not so deep,
And took the Bible for her pattern.

And so she said, "Excuse me friends,
I find all have their proper places,
And Common Sense should stay at home,
With cheerful hearts and smiling faces."

Original Story.

A True Story.

BY M. L. P.

It was a pleasant sight indeed, that dining room, with its bright hued carpet, heavy damask curtains, and glowing grate. And a pleasanter one still, that supper table, with its snowy cloth, bright silver candle sticks, and nice home supper. Around the table were seated the family.—The father in his prime, was a fine looking man. Opposite him sat the mother, talking pleasantly with her little son, at her right; while at her left, were two little girls with bright eyes and merry dimples. The only other member of the family was a daughter just ninteen years of age. Her eyes were deep blue; her hair soft and brown. There was a thoughtfulness about her face, that seemed ill befitting her sunny eyes, and smilling lips; yet despite that thoughtful look, one could see as great happiness in the depths of her blue eyes.

The father said sadly; "My child we shall miss you much."

"Oh! but Papa, she will soon come back" cried a little voice.

"But she wont be our sister then, she'll be Mr. Ray's wife," answered the boy, from his place by his mother.

The young girl made no reply. Her heart was too full for words. On the morrow she was to become the bride of the man she loved above all others; for this she was intensely happy, and not even the parting from her dear parents could mar her joy.

The supper was finished in silence, and then the family went into the parlor, where the little ones chatted merrily till their bed time.

Lillian rose, glanced at the clock on the mantel, and with a good night kiss to all, she took her candle, and slowly mounted the grand old stair-way that led to her room.

The trunks were all packed; and on the bed was carefully laid the rich travelling dress she would wear the next day. She hastily undressed and putting on her dainty slippers, and soft white merino wrapper, she drew an easy chair near the grate, and began slowly to comb out her hair. Soon the door opened, her mother entered, and sitting there together for the last time, they talked long and lovingly.—The hour grew late —the mother rose, and with a tearful kiss, and a whispered "good-night my darling" left the room.

After waiting a while before the fire, Lillian left her seat, went to the window, and throwing it open leaned far out in the clear cold December air, and looked affectionately at the familiar scene around her. The night was beautiful; the moon shining with rare brilliancy, made every object distinct in its clear light. She could see the church spire in full relief against the sky; and the broad gravel walks, in the grounds around her father's house, look white and wierd, in the moonlight. As she stood there leaning from the window, the village clock chimed the midnight hour, she murmured softly. "Is it so? am I really to be his wife? surely nothing can take him from me now!"

Then raising her eyes to Heaven, she prayed that she might be all that loved one could desire.

Suddenly she heard a noise below, and looking down she saw two dark figures bearing something between them, walk silently to one of the parlor windows, that opened on the terrace.

Thinking they were robbers she ran to her father's door, and called. "Papa, papa, come quick!"

Her father then threw on his dressing gown, seized his candle, and joined her without delay. She told him what she had seen, and they rapidly descended the stairs, and crossed the hall to the parlor.

As they opened the door, a gust of wind blew out the candle, but they saw two men hastily spring from the open window, and disappear.

The window opened to the floor, and through it streamed a broad sheet of moonlight. In the glow of this silver light, lay a dark object, and as they neared it, they saw that it was the body of a man.

Lillian stooped and gazed at the face, then with a wild cry, threw herself beside him. The features were clearly distinguishable—the noble brow, the finely cut lips, the dark brown eyes, and the clustering curls, were those of the lover she was to have married ere another day had passed. But the lips were pale, the eyes lustreless, and the curls all clotted and stained with the blood that flowed from a deep gash in that manly brow.

Only a few minutes before, she had been praying to make him a noble wife; and now, she sat beside his corpse, frantically calling his name, and pressing his poor wounded head to her bosom, regardless of the blood that was streaming over her white wrapper, and wetting her long hair.

It was a sad, sad, picture for the father—it seemed almost cruel that the moon should shine so brightly on it—and he stood for a moment paralyzed with horror; but soon recovering his strength, he aroused the family, and they hastened with frightened faces, to look on the sad spectacle. They unclasped poor Lillian's arms from around the dead form she had loved so well, and bore her mourning, pitiously, to her chamber. The morning, that was to have been so happily, dawned on a sorrow stricken family; and the bright sunshine, found no way to penetrate into the darkened room, where was laid the body of the murdered man. Above, on the bed where so lately had lain her bridal dress was poor Lillian, mad with grief; and the little children sat close together, with pale faces, and quivering lips.

They burried him in the village cemetery, and a handsome monument marks his resting place. No trace of the murderers could be found, and the foul deed must needs be unavenged.

Years have passed since then, and our story takes us to the quiet, pretty Convent at C——. The gardens are green with the spring grass, and the birds sing gleefully among the branches of the trees and everything betokens comfort, cheerfulness, and economy. A long vine clad piazza runs along the back of the building —up and down this slowly walks sister Angela. Her eyes are fixed on her little black prayer book, and she walks and reads, with no thought of the outer world. Strangers visiting the Convent, look more than once, at her pale beautiful face, and marvel at the calm resigned expression, in her deep, blue eyes, and at the gentle smile of peace, that ever rests on her lovely countenance. They will never suspect that this quiet nun, was once the happiest, brightest, girl in the village where she lived; nor, that she has passed through a fearful ordeal, more terrible than they have ever imagined, which took away from her all that made life dear, and left her no consolation, care in serving God, and doing good here, that she may win a place on high, near to the loved one she has lost.

And I tell my readers, that Lillian, and sister Angela, are the same.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., 1871.

The Response of Judge Brooks.

At the Federal Court at Raleigh, on the 22nd ult, the counsel for the convicted Ku Klux prisoners appealed to the Court for mercy. To this Judge made the following response.

We regard it as proper that we should now say that the facts as developed in the trial of this case shows most clearly that there is in fact, a conditon of things existing in this district which we know is earnestly regretted by every good citizen to whatever political party he may belong. We express with confidence the opinion, that no man is a good man, and no citizen a good citizen who approves of atrocities such as have been shown to have been perpetrated by these prisoners. We say more, that no one is either a good man or a good citizen of this government who does not in his heart condemn such acts (by whomsoever perpetrated) as inhuman, fiendish and treasonable in their character. We know that good men and citizens do so condemn such acts, and we would have but little hope for our republic if we did not so believe.

That bad men should now be found to violate the law and even conspire together to violate the law, not only by attacking the most sacred rights of their fellow-men, but their lives also; Not only so, but even more, that men should be now found to attack in this way, not only those around them, and not content with that, should attack posterity with treasonable acts, with a view to destroy a government which has never punished but protected them is not a matter of so much surprise, for in looking into hisory we find that at all times, there have been those who would commit such crimes. But the manner in which this association, spoken of by the witnesses, was bound together, the character of the obligation required and taken by its members, as construed by themselves, its manner of proceeding to effect the object of the association. That this association should have existed so long and have drawn into its folds so many men in any part of our State, is, we say, without hesitation, the most damning blot upon the character of our State that history records.

This association has not, so far as the Court can discover from the evidence, the merit or excuse that vigilant committees (though entirely self-constituted) ordinarily have. The purpose, as stated by a majority of the witnesses, was not to punish crime, or any acts forbidden by the law, but in the language of the witnesses who were members of the organization, to "put down the radical party and raise up the democratic or conservative party." Now it is very clear that it is not unlawful to advance the interest and increase the strength and influence of any party by the use of any lawful means. And it may be even praiseworthy in any citizen that he is active in the use of lawful means to advance such principles relating to our government as he believes best calculated to promote the happiness of our people. But when men band themselves together—even to the number of fifty in a county—instead of five hundred as is shown in this case in Rutherford, who bind themselves together by an oath or promise (unlawful though it be) to obey all orders, though such orders be to commit crime. The lives, the liberty, the property of the best citizens in such a community cannot be secure—they are not secure! If our government has not the power to protect its law-abiding citizens in their lives, their liberty and their property—which are declared to be the leading objects—the first purposes of our constitution and our laws, we ask in God's name of what value is our constitution and our laws?

I feel thankful to day that I have never been one of those who have believed that our government was such "a rope of sand" as to be without the power to protect itself from such disintegration, as it will always be liable while bad men live. If it was otherwise, our Constitution and our laws would be mere delusions, and only calculated to disappoint the hopes and expectations of the good men who framed them.

We do not entertain a doubt as to the validity of the 14th and 15th amendments of the Constitution. And these being valid, then as to the act of July 31st, 1870, and 20th April, 1871, they are also valid. As was declared by my associate in his charge to the Grand Jury, these laws oppress no one, but are only so framed as to secure those from being oppressed whom the more powerful and lawless (we may add, the evil disposed,) may attempt to oppress.

There is another striking feature in this organization, according to the evidence in this case, which we cannot refrain from mentioning here. This we regard as of terrible significance, and lends to the organization infinitely more power for harm than would otherwise be attendant upon it. This is the fact that all the members of this band are of one of the great political parties of the country, and in the main, their arbitrary and cruel acts are directed against those who act and sympathize with the other of these political parties.

For this reason then, it is clear to my mind that the outrages committed by these Klans have not received the prompt and unqualified condemnation of thousands of intelligent and influential citizens of our State, that they would have received if they had been committed under any other possible circumstances. Gentlemen of education and character, good citizens, have not approved (as we are glad to believe,) but some such have not condemned as the interests of society and good government demands, they should have condemned such crime and violation of all the principles of humanity.

A peculiar feature, clearly developed by the evidence in this case, is the cool and deliberate manner in which each individual member of the society, goes to work to execute, even in the most cruel and inhuman way, the orders of the chiefs or committees of the Dens or Klans, by torturing and even taking the life of those exercising a privilege, guaranteed to them by the Constitution and the laws of our common country—for the doing of that which they themselves are as fully allowed to do. That is to vote for and advocate the election to office, of any they may prefer, and for reasons satisfactory to themselves.

These rights the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States, intended to coufer, and does confer upon every citizen otherwise qualified to vote. And the acts under which these prisoners have been convicted, were designed and passed for the punishment of those who perpetrate such fiendish acts as were clearly perpetrated by these prisoners, with a view to defeat the objects of the amendment.

The manner in which the attack, (dignified as they have it, by the title of raid) on Justice in some respects, would quite equal the performance of some of the earlier English Knights of the road. But in most respects it was cowardly, base and devilish. And especially does it seem to have been so on the part of the elder Shotwell who seemed to be anxious to prepare himself to establish his innocence, when in fact he was perhaps the most prominent and active of all the conspirators.

And now for him mercy is asked. If some good spirit hovering around, or a pious old father, had whispered in his ear, the language of the poet,

"Lord, that mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me,"

it may be that he would not so coolly have entered into the conspiracy for taking the life of a fellow-being for such an offence. Had he been so admonished and still conspired to commit the deed, then he was indeed as one lost. No man has attempted to impute anything against Justice except that he was a radical and a man of influence.

If this is not a case in which it becomes the duty of the Court to punish in such way as to answer the purposes of the law, then we will confess that no case will or can arise, in which it will be the duty of the Court, to punish in an exemplary way.

Exceptions were taken by the counsel for the defendants to the discharge to the jurors who were in attendance upon this Court for three weeks in the month of June. For this the Marshal was directly censured and accused.

Those who have complained of this should know that the Marshal did not discharge the jury. If they are under any misapprehension as to that, I will inform them that I discharged the jurors for the last session of the Court, as I remember it, with the approbation of the Circuit Judge. And in regard to the venire for this term, that was ordered by the Circuit Judge with my approbation. As to the manner in which the jurors were summoned, they were summoned in the same manner and under like instructions as were those for the June session, and with the exception of the former rule, restricting the Marshal to the citizens of certain counties, were summoned in the same way in which they have been since June term 1867, of this Court.

The prisoners complain that the jurors were not Democrats. They would probably have complained of any who were not conspirators like themselves.

We believe that the jurors are honest men and not hostile in their feelings to the government or the unfortunate parties accused, and if really any doubt as to the latter ever existed with the counsel it should be dispelled after the verdict rendered in the case by which the jury have acquitted three of the parties, against all of whom there was evidence of such a character as renders it questionable whether they should not have found them guilty also. We will venture the opinion that if the gentlemen who took these exceptions had themselves been jurors and not counsel, not more of the parties accused would have escaped than have by the verdict of the jury.

For myself I will add that I will not admit that there is a man in North Carolina who cherishes a better feeling for the lawyers of this Court and of the State than that entertained and cherished by me. Few, if any I am sure, have ever enjoyed their intercourse with them more than I, or been more proud of them as brethren. But I state now and here, that I will not purchase or retain the respect of any man, at the high price of a dereliction of any official duty, as I understand that duty. And in this I believe I express the feeling of my brother, the Circuit Judge.

The Man Without a Body.

A LIVING HEAD ON A PARALYZED TRUNK.

HOW HE KEEPS THE FLIES OFF.

Near Glenwood, Iowa, resides James T. Anderson, aged twenty-six. Three years ago he died from his neck downward. His head, however, is alive, and more vigorous and active than before the body, which it once governed, ceased to be vital. At the age of two, James' father died, and his mother soon married again. At the age of three he was tossed several times by an angry cow. Shortly afterward, while he was eating bread and milk, a rattlesnake joined him, and when the two had finished, his snakship made his bow and retired. At five years old a horse ran away with him, and made for a stable, across the entrance of which was a bar. The horse reached in under the bar, and his mother seized him just in time to save his life. He grew up active and strong, and was fond of sports. He became a good gymnast,

James, at the time of the accident that left him with a dead body and a living head, was a fine, handsome young man. He weighed two hundred pounds, and there was not a superfluous ounce of flesh on his body.

One afternoon, when on a visit to an uncle at Glenwood, Iowa, he was exercising on a pole placed from one tree to another in the back yard. He had on a pair of gaiters tipped with patent leather He swung down from the pole by his feet; the leather slipped and he fell. He struck his neck just where it joins the shoulders. He was bewildered, but perfectly conscious. His body felt as though smashed to a jelly. He experienced a horrible tingling, and when the doctor came he told him not to touch him, as his body was broken to pieces. His neck was broken; inflammation set in, and all thought his end was come. To the surprise of all, in a few days he began to amend. He was shortly after removed to his stepfather's house, where he still resides.

Time hung heavily on his hands, and he resolved to learn to write with his mouth. He accomplished this, and, as he says in a letter to Mr. J. K. Nutting, he wrote a "tolerably good mouth." He is now trying to paint, and hopes by this means to earn something for his support. He has been, and still is, tenderly cared for by his sister, herself a crippie, and speaks in the highest terms of his stepfather, who, though a poor man, has shown him every kindness.

His worst enemies are the flies which buzz about his face. He holds a leafy twig in his mouth, however, and manages to twirl it about in a wonderful way and drive off his tormentors. This case is without a parallel, except that of John Carter, of England, who was injured in a similar way, and who became a famous painter.

Sketches by Albert D. Richardson.

TOM CORWIN.

Fillmore gave us Tom Corwin, "the Ohio wagon boy," of wit so matchless, of voice so mellow and organ-like, of cheek swarthy as if smitten by the fiery Orient; most American of men—at fireside the greatest conversationist of his day on the stump he was a series of transitions between Demosthenes and old Burton. What a storm he invoked in the Senate during the Mexican war! A Democratic member asserted that the natives ought to welcome our troops. Corwin replied:

"If I were a Mexican as I am an American, I would welcome them with bloody hands to hospitable graves."

Now Seward's "Irrepressible Conflict," nor Bank's "Let the Union slide," ever called forth such sweeping maledications. The "wagon boy" sleeps now, with that which hushes all passion, and makes successive partisans wonder at the bitterness of every generation but their own.

JAMES GUTHRIE.

With Pierce came James Guthrie, the Kentucky Anak, with leviathan shoulders, and six feet and a half of height. Son of a famed Indian fighter, himself a flatboat hand and cattle drover in youth. Once, in a characteristic Kentuckey affray, he received a shot from a political opponent which confined him to his bed for three years. He brought to the Treasury boldness, sagacity, and a handwriting which no man could decipher. One day he sent a letter to a friend in Baltimore. The next morning its recipient appeared in the Department, and handed back the missive.

"Mr. Guthrie," said he, "I can't make out one word of your letter but the signature, so I have brought it for you to translate."

The Secretary knitted his brows, and puzzled over it for some minutes. At last he gave it up.

"Hang me if I can read it either. I have forgotton its exact contents, but I know what I wanted to see you about. Sit down and I'll tell you."

Guthrie was a walking cyclopedia of the treasury. He knew more details in each branch than the subordinate specially charged with them. His institutions were like lightning. Old clerks insist that after hearing the first sentence he foresaw all that a man was going to say to him, and tell droll stories of his sleeping through conversations and then waking up and answering each point exactly as if he heard it. They aver that he would run over a a hundred letters awaiting his signature, and throw aside each one containing a mistake of phrase or figure, just as the cashier goes through a pile of bank notes and flings out counterfeits.

The moldly archives contain two bits of paper, which illustrate not only Guthrie's character, but the contrast between two Presidents. While Jackson was in the White House, he requested that the account of one of his special friends might be paid. The Fourth Auditor refused to pass it, insisting that as a sworn accounting officer he could not overlook its

THE EFFECT OF THE KU KLUX TRIALS.

The result of the Ku Klux trials will have a good effect upon our State as well as upon the country. It will break up this lawless and wicked organization, make those who were subject to its murderous outrages feel safe in their rights, person and property, and cause the true friends of this grand "Old North State" to rejoice in the conviction that this foul blot on her name and fame is to be wiped out.

We knew, and most keenly did we feel it, that this monstrous organization had been doing incalculable harm to the people of North Carolina and the South. In spite of all that we could do its existence and operations were all the time creating a public sentiment against us at at the North, resulting disastrously to us in more ways than one. Not only did it check, aye drive away, the influx of imigration and capital that was preparing to come and which we have a right to expect, but it tended to re-embitter the people of the North and delay the General Amnesty that otherwise would have been magnanimously granted.

But so far as this State is concerned, the "dance of blood" engaged in by those midnight assassins against the peace and order of society has ended,—has been broken up. The conspirators are being brought to grief and punishment. The strong arm of the Government has interposed and the "Dens" and "Klans" are dispersing never again to appear on North Carolina soil.

To one unaccustomed to Southern life, the subserviency of that section to the great manufacturing establishments of the world is absolutely inconceivable. A Southern farmer puts a hickory helve into his axe, the timber for which was originally cut in the South, shipped North, there manufactured and returned to him for his use. He cuts down the forest with a Collin's axe, turns up the soil with a Northern plough, chops out his cotton with a New York hoe, gins the staple upon a gin of New England manufacture, hoops it with Pennsylvania iron, hauls it to the warehouse on a Concord wagon, and ships it to market upon Northern made platform cars, while his small grains are cut, threshed, and prepared for sale by means of Yankee implements. Nor is this all. Enter the arena of household economy, you find the Southerner cooking with an Albany stove, eating from Boston earthenware, cutting his food with Meriden knives, ladling his soup with Gorham Company plated ware, by the light of a petroleum lamp, made chimney and all, under the murky cannopy of Pittsburg smoke. Come to personal apparel, and our first families are decked out in Yankee muslins, with Massachusetts ribbons in their hair and Rhode Island ear-bobs in their ears, while their dresses are held together by Connecticut buttons, waterbury hooks and eyes, or Cohoes pins. Thus from shoe-latchet to hair-pins there is a mortifying dependence upon Northern thrift and industry.—The South

That all this is too true cannot be denied. It is the great mistake of the South,—its neglect of diversified industry and its failure to encourage manufacturing enterprize. And until this state of utter vassalage is radically altered, until the South resolutely determines to take the "new departure" that leads to wealth and independence she never can hope to assert her co-equality and maintain her claims among free and prosperous communities.

Corn and Cotton are important, nay invaluable productions. But the section that devotes all its energies to their raising must ever remain in the back ground. An exclusive devotion to any one pursuit will cripple the powers of any one section. No great community can prosper, in the race of modern civilization, without a judicious cultivation of the mechanic arts. The South must learn this—must seek other outlets for its energies and other channels for its capital. Instead of sending the raw material abroad she must begin to manufacture them at home. When she does this; when her air is laden with the smoke of factories and the ear is saluted with the whir and clang of busy machinery, then can and will she occupy her true position and become the great and prosperous country Nature designed she should be.

Hon. LEWIS HANES, one of the ablest Conservative journalists in this State has openly espoused the Republican cause and will henceforth act with the Republican party. Most truly does he declare that "but for the Republican party the Great American Union would now be numbered among the things that were, and the institution of Slavery would still be cursing the fairest portion of the land." Mr. HANES is now co-editor of the Raleigh Era. His large experience and acknowledged ability will be a valuable acquisition to that paper.

The respectable portion of the Democracy of this State—those ashamed and disgusted with the indecency and low character of the Sentinel—have started a new Democratic paper at Raleigh under the name and title of our journal—The North Carolinian. Hence forth we are to have two "North Carolinians" in this State,—one here in the East, the other at the State Capitol; ours the advocate and exponent of the National Republican Party, the other the organ of the respectable Democrats of North Carolina. We welcome it on our exchange list. It will be under the editorial management of Maj. WM. A. HEARNE.

THE VINDICATION OF SENATOR POOL.

Time and again we asserted that the day would come, and that very soon, when JOHN POOL would be vindicated and his vile detractors made to hide their heads in shame. But for him the secret banditti—the worse than the old English knights of the road who, as Judge BROOKS declares, have been a disgrace to our State as well as our common humanity, would have kept on in their villianous work of midnight terroism and assassination; but for him our State would ere long have been a vast theatre of intimidation and scourging and murder. He dared to expose and denounce the organization and insist upon measures for its suppression and the punishment of the guilty. For this he was assailed and abused as no public man has ever been. But loving his State and resolved on saving its people from their worst enemies, he relaxed no effort, and to-day he stands before the people of North Carolina and the country most triumphantly vindicated. Aye, and we venture the assertion that on a popular vote, as strong as he always has been in the affections and confidence of the masses, he would poll twenty five thousand more votes to-day than he could have done at any other time. The people now see that he was right and they were wrong in ever doubting his motives. They now see that for the breaking up of the ku klux orgnization and the establishment of order and peace they are indebted to Senator POOL and those true men who co-operated with him.

North Carolina is at heart a Republican State. It is right and proper—consistent with sound reason and political truth—that she should be so. And more than this; it is her interest to be Republican—to be and act in harmony with the Federal government. The Republican party is in the ascendent in the nation, and will remain so for years to come. To co-operate with the Democratic party will place us in antagonism with the Government and thus retard not only the "era of good feeling," but our material interests as well. The sooner the Southern people are brought into full harmony with the General Goverment the sooner they will have a restoration of peace, and prosperity, and happiness.

When first issued the greenback was denounced as a wild and extravagant Radical measure and that within five years would not be worth more than the paper they were printed on. Now Mr. GROESBAKE a prominent Democratic aspirant for the Presidency declares, what is the fact, that they are now almost equal in value to the true dollar. And to what but the skillfull and honest financial policy of the Republican administration do we owe this grand result?

United States District Judge UNDERWOOD opened Court at Richmond, Va., on Monday. Judge BOND telegraphed that he could not be present, having nearly 200 cases to try in this State alone and about an equal number to try in South Carolina. There will be this Fall several hundred cases brought for trial in Mississippi and Alabama also The activity of the Department of Justice has been very great, though its business has been conducted so quietly that its chief rasults will only be realized when the trials are brought on.

Not a week passes but we hear of instances of prominent Old line Whigs and Conservatives bidding "good bye" to the Democracy and publicly proclaiming themselves members of the Republican party. We are hearing a good deal less about it "not being respectable to be a Radical." Decent and honorable men are getting sensitive about belonging to a party so clearly proven to be identified with Ku-Kluxism. They are leaving it all over the State.

THE SOUTH. Devoted to the Material Interests of the Southern States. New York. TARDREW & Co. 21, Park Row. Weekly, at $3 a year.

This is the title of a new paper just started at New York. It is well gotten up and if the initial number is a specimen of what we may expect the South will supply a great want. The subject of Emigration to this country is speciality discussed, and it is one in which we are deeply interested.

Somebody has started the story which is going the rounds of the press of a man who is alive after having had his neck broken. We trust none will be so foolish as to suppose that it is literally true. It is nothing but an allegorical description of the condition of the Democratic party.

The True Georgian, a Democratic paper, says that the Tammany defalcation, together with JEFFERSON DAVIS' speeches and ALEXANDER STEPHENS' editorials have about finished the Democracy. We may add that the Ku Klux exposures have had a hand in it.

The Old North State, at Salisbury, was sold on the 16th inst., by public auction to J. J. BURNER, Esq. He has changed the name to the Carolina Watchman. The first number, just received, is a capital one. We welcome it to our sanctum.

F. N. STRUDWICK, member of the General Assembly of this State, has failed to appear before the Ku Klux Committee at Washington. He will be reported to Congress on its meeting to be dealt with. He is the great "Impeacher."

On Tuesday next Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa hold their State elections. The Democracy are active. We suppose that like Sairey Gamp they want to make "a handsome corpse."

The Republicans of Massachusetts held their State Convention on Wednesday of last week. The Hon WM. B. WASHBURN was nominated for Governor. He at present represents the Ninth Massachusetts District in Congress.

Of Hon. William M. Meredith, of Philadelphia, one of the counsel of the United States before the Geneva arbitration, the Philadelphia North American thus speaks: "Mr. Meredith was Attorney-General of Pennsylvania for six years, under Gov. Curtin. He was Secretary of the Treasury under President Taylor, and has filled other responsible positions. And his conduct in every situation has approved the soundness of his judgment and the great scope of his erudition. There is not probably another gentleman in the Commonwealth better competent to deal with those points of international law that are sole and prime in this Commission." Mr. Meredith and Gen. Caleb Cushing have both accepted their appointment.

What have the public defamers of Hon. C. L. COBB to say now? The revelations made at the Ku Klux trials have become facts of history, and they are of so startling a character as to convince even the most skeptical that Mr. COBB'S course in Congress on this question was clearly right and proper. He dared to do his duty, and to day the people of the State honor him for it.

Col. W. L. SAUNDERS, an officer of the North Carolina General Assembly, was before the Southern Outrage Committee at Washington and refused to answer all the questions, on the ground that he was not required to foreswear himself, virtually admitting that he was a leading member of the Ku Klux organization. And yet this man has been placed in high position by the Democratic Legislature of our State!

The Democratic Party has no new promises to make.—George H. Pendleton

Mr. PENDLETON is one of the Democratic leaders—an aspirant for the Presidency. The people will be glad to hear this declaration, for the promises heretofore have been made only to be broken.

From our advices from Texas, we should not be suprised to hear that the election went against us on Tuesday next. Unfortunate local issues and uncalled for dissensions in the Republican ranks can have no other than an injurious effect.

The Federal Court is still in session at Raleigh. The trial of AMOS OWENS and others for raiding on AARON BIGGERSTAFF resulted in a verdict of "guilty" as to sixteen of the prisoners and "not guilty" as to five.

"Is there a single thing the Democratic party ever held to that they have never departed from?"—Democratic Paper.

Yes, whiskey!

New Books, Periodicals &c.

MRS HENRY WOOD'S NEW BOOK.—"Dene Hollow," by the author of "East Lynne," is in press, and will be published in a few days by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, from the Author's Manuscript and advanced Proof-sheets, purchased by them from Mrs. Henry Wood. It will be issued in America simultaneously with its publications in London, and in uniform style with "Bessy Rane," "Roland Yorke," "The Channings," and all the previous works by this favorite and popular author. "Dene Hollow," while containing the characteristic features of its authors style, may be considered equal if not superior to anything previously written by Mrs. Wood. This lady has a marvellous faculty of charming her readers, with the skill with which she puts her characters on the stage, of multiplying her plots, of sustaining her dialogues, and of intensifying all her minor incidents; and as the work itself presents all those characteristics of the author which have established her reputation among the first writers, there is but little doubt of its success with our novel loving community. The story is one of absorbing interest—interest that would be unpardonable to anticipate its detail, and thereby spoil the interest of the reader. "Dene Hollow" will not be laid aside without eager perusal to the end; for the reader will be constantly led aside into new avenues and lanes with such enchanting views and scenery, that he never wearies of the path; there are so many new faces among the minor actors, and such a magic influence thrown around all they say and do, that his interest never flags for a moment. The book will be handsomely published, in clear, large print, on fine paper, which will make it a luxury to read.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—The October number of this Magazine is at hand, and its content are of more than usual interest. The article from the "Quarterly Review" on Darwin's Descent of Man, is by far the ablest and most scientific attack that has yet been made on this remarkable book. Among the other articles of note, we enumerate the following: "Sir Walter Scott; The Herschels and the Star Depths; War, a Poem, by Hon. Roden Noel; A Festa in Venice; Patty—Chapters XLI. to XLVI. In Kamtchatka and the Country of the Koraks; The State Papers of France; The Literary Life—II.; Marie of Villefranche; Pike County Ballads; Mediœval Goldsmiths; Continuation of the Deep-Sea Explorations; Marian May; Sir John Herschel; Art, Miscellany," &c. A fine portrait of the great astronomer, Sir John Herschel, embellishes the number.

E. R. Pelton, publisher, 108 Fulton Street, New York. Terms $5 per year; two copies $9; single copies 45 cents.

NEW CENSUS AND PATENT LAWS.—We are indebted to Munn & Co., publishers of the Scientific American, New York, for a neat little bound volume of 120 pages, entitled as above. It contains the complete Census of 1870, showing the Population, by Counties, of all the States and Territories, with their Areas, and the Population of the Principal Cities. Also, the new Patent Laws in full, with Forms, Official Rules, Directions how to obtain Patents, Copyrights, Regulations for Trade-Marks, Assignments, how to sell Patents, etc. Also, a large variety of valuable information relating to Wa ter-Wheels, Steam-Engines, and other mechanism, with many useful tables and recipes, 175 diagrams of Mechanical Movements, etc. We advise everybody to send for it as above. Price, 25 cents. A more valuable compendium, for so small a price, has rarely been published.

Correspondence.

From Currituck.

INDIAN RIDGE, Currituck Co., Sept. 29th.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian.

Doubtless you would like to hear from this section, and to learn what is going on among us. Well, the first news of interest, is the poultry in this county is dying of the Cholera or liver disease. It is the same complaint that destroyed the chickens in many of the North Western States. We have lost nearly all our poultry. Many families that had hundreds of chickens before the Cholera visited us now have not one. Mr. Mitchell Ferrebee lost in six days about two hundred head. Hon. T. C. Humphries has lost more than a hundred within a few days, and many others have suffered as badly. The Cholera is still playing havoc.

We have some protracted meetings with us. The first was held with the Church of Moyock, by Rev. J. D. Lumsden. Much interest manifested. There was also a Camp Meeting at Good Hope, among our colored brethern; Rev. J. Cartwright preached faithfully for two weeks. There were about 60 accessions to the Church. A protracted meeting will begin at Providence, a Baptist Church, of which Rev. T. Babb is pastor, on to-morrow. Rev. J. D. Lumsden, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lambeth, of E. City, have been engaged in a meeting at Perkins' Chapel, on the Ridge. It is now in progress and much interest is manifested.

In addition to the meetings we have had other items of interest. You have doubtless heard of the close of the school of Indian Ridge Academy, of which Maj. L. H. Babb, formerly of Gates county, is Principal. It was a treat to be at the closing exercises os this school. "It was a success"—so say the people. This school is now in session—commenced last Monday with 34 students, and will have an access on next Monday of about 9 more. This is a good school, and the people seem to appreciate the labors of the Principal. Last session the Principal was assisted by W. S. Wilson, Esq. But the most interesting thing to the young folks came off last night. Imagine yourself, Mr, Editor, standing in a beautiful grove, in which stands a church, about sun-down, and see come, thronging from every direction, all the blooming maidens and dashing beaux's of the county, and I am sure you will interogate yourself this, "Well, what does all this mean?" Well, sir, I will tell you what it means, as you are a stranger. The ladies of Providence Church concluded to give a supper—not a feast—for the benefit of the church, and to charge every body that eat at the table 50 cents. It is useless to say that the supper was a good one, for coming from under the hands of such managers as Mrs. B. M. Baxter, Mrs. George Snowden, Mrs. M. F. Moore and Mrs. Joseph Grandy, it couldn't be anything else. The table was crowded with that which was good—and the people seemed to enjoy it "hugely," and much money was taken it at the door by Dr. H. M. Shaw. May the ladies succeed more next time.

INVENTUS.

From Belvidere.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

There is a Revival of Religion in progress at the Baptist church at Whiteville Grove, near Belvidere.

Thomas E. Winslow, of Belvidere Township, sold this season $120 worth of Scuppernong Grapes from two peices of land 70 feet square. Can this be beaten?

Deputy Sheriff Darden, of Perquimans, is after the people of his Township for Taxes. Look out for his notices and pay up, or he will look out for you certain.

A great revival has been going on at Cedar Grove, M. E. Church, near the town of Hertford, under the auspices of Rev. M. S. Colena.

The first rebellion was open, direct, manly. Jefferson Davis and others, who preferred secession, and labored to accomplish it, delivered their valedictories in Congress, and then strode forth in the open day to raise armies and hurl them against the national authority. For four long years of disaster and suffering to a misguided people, who fell under the lead of these arrogant and aggressive leaders, the Confederate troops fought without disguises, and, meeting foemen worthy of their steel, died in battle or of wounds or disease in what they believed to be a just cause. There was a Confederate yell, but it was answered by the inspiring Union hipi hipi huzza! There were charges, but not upon lonely cabins at midnight, with disguises to terrify while they concealed the faces of the assassins. There were raids, but not upon unarmed men, and frightened women, and huddling children. The ku klux yell, the ku klux howl, the ku klux screech, sounds like the signal of death, and there is no answer to it. The husband escapes if he can. The wife crouches and trembles. The children hide themselves and listen for the lash which is to cut the father's back; or it may be, in the morning, or the next day, when the terror is over-past, they venture timidly out to see the lifeless body of the father or the brother hanging to a tree. The Confederate troops contended in open warfare, and killed all they could in battle. This was admitted, daylight rebellion. The ku klux, under the auspices and with the approval of the Conservative leaders of the South, wage a midnight contest with the defenseless and the unwarlike. The former were men; the latter imitate demons. We said Conservative leaders. Who denies this? If any one should deny it, let him point us to the leaders who, over their names, or on the stump, have denounced this secret rebellion, thus carried on in disguises and with arms against the unarmed and the inoffensive. And carried on for what? Why, solely for political ascendency; solely to obtain that power for which the leaders vainly forced the volunteers and the conscripts of the confederacy to contend upon the field of battle.

We concur with the author of the late Republican address to the people of Virginia, that—

The actual perpetrators of these cowardly and scandalous barbarities are less responsible and less deserving of criminal indictment than the more cautious incendiaries, who fortified by wealth, trained by education, and skilled in the arts of treason, incite others to overt acts which they themselves carefully avoid.

The real incendiaries, the real assassins, the real murderers, are the respectable Conservative leaders, including Tammany as well as those of the South. The great body of the Confederate troops surrendered in good faith. They returned home; tired of war, impoverished, with a feeling of respect for the Federal troops whom they had so often met in battle, and touched and tendered by the generous terms which had been accorded them by General Grant. Many of them recurred with more or less fondness to their attachment to the old flag, and all of them, dismissing politics from their minds, went to work to repair their shattered fortunes. If the ambitious and selfish leaders, few of whom had exposed their precious persons in battle, had let them alone, there would have been no kuklux, and the South would to-day have been quiet, peaceable, and prosperous.

But the secret rebellion was inaugurated in Tammany. First, the Union Democracy, then the Constitutional Union Guard, then the White Brotherhood and then the Invisible Empire—the latter a chosen band of respectable leaders to direct the entire movement, the object being to defeat by force and by secret means the reconstruction acts, to "disperse the carpet-bag governments," and to involve the nation once more in a conflict of arms. But the plot was discovered. Exposures were made. Scores of honest men, who had been entrapped, have borne testimony to the truth as we have stated it; Congress has acted, at the suggestion of our vigilant and patriotic Presiden-; the law is being enforced against the tools of this secret rebellion, the only regret being that more of the leaders have not been reached; and the prospect now is that the second rebellion will be suppressed. But the nation must be vigilant. These leaders are still arrogant and powerful. They hate the Government. They want amnesty, but they crouch only to strike. If they should succeed in electing their President in 1872 it will be necessary to fight over again all the battle of the rebellion, or surrender every principle of justice and liberty now incorporated in the National Constitution. What will the friends of liberty do? What will the friends of the Government do? Will they unite and vote down these secession, ku klux leaders in peace, or will they allow them to elect their President and a majority in Congress, and then meet them, as they did in 1861, on the field of battle?—Washington Chronicle,

General Summary

James W. Marshall, the discoverer of gold in California, is on his way East to tell what he knows about mining. The San Francisco Bulletin says he is an honest, simple-hearted old man, who tells the story of his adventurous life with an earnestness and truthfulness that compel belief and excite sympathy.

An independent young woman, Josie Mitchell, poor herself, but having a number of rich relatives in Missouri, determined to make her own livelihood rather than be supported by others. She accordingly became a telegraph operator in St. Charles, and had not been there two years before she received her reward in the form of a lehacy of $200,000 left her by an uncle.

"What! Mr. M.," said a weddingguest to a clergyman, "don't you drink wine at a wedding." "No, sir," was the reply: "I will take a glass of water."—"But, sir," said the officious guest, "you recollect the advice of Paul to Timothy, to take a little wine for his infirmity." "I have no infirmity," was the sententious reply.

Hon. Millard Fillmore has declined an invitation to deliver the annual address before the Planters,' Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Association of Mississippi, at its Fair in Jackson on the 23d of October, saying he never attempted anything in that line, and is now too old to commence. Hon. George H. Pendleton, too, has declined to deliver it, but says he will try to attend the Fair.

The steamer Caspian, of the Allan line, which arrived in Norfolk on Thursday, from Liverpool direct, brought over sixty immigrants from England and Scotland. These immigrants passed through here yesterday on their way to the several homes they have decided to establish in this country. Some of them will settle in Mecklenburg county, where a colony has already been planted; others will their homes in Appomattox and some will go as far west as Wythe. They seemed to be substantial and thrifty people.—Pet. Index.

The Mayor received information on Saturday afternoon, which induced him to believe that two gentlemen from Edenton, N. C., had come to Norfolk for the purpose of fighting a duel. He accordingly issued warrants for the arrest of the principals—Augustus M. Moore and W. D. Pruden, Esqs.—and placed the warrants in the hands officers for execution. Mr. Moore was arrested on Sunday afternoon and taken before the Mayor. His Honor required Mr. Moore to give bond in the sum of $5,000 to keep the peace, which was readily given, and Mr. Moore released from arrest. Mr. Pruden eluded arrest by leaving the city.—Norfolk Journal.

Once more we hear of that fine old veteran, the Rev. Peter Cartwright, Methodist minister for 66 years and a presiding elder for over 50 years. This gentleman celebrated his 87th birthday, on the 1st ult., at Pleasant Plains, Sangamon County, Ill. Just think of the patriarch, surrounded upon this touching occasion by 120 children, grand-children, and great grand-children—population enough for a small township. There was a pleasant reunion, and the octogenarian was not too old to make an interesting speech.

Hon. Joseph H. Ranney, the colored Congessman of South Carolina, is visiting in Newport, R. I., and on Thursday evening held a reception, at which he gave brief statements of the condition of affairs in the South, showed some of the defects of the legislation of the last Congress, and pointed out the work to be done in the future. He said that the Kuklux are still active in some sections, and that a more vigorous execution of the laws is needed for the protection of Union men.

CELEBRATED

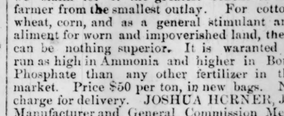
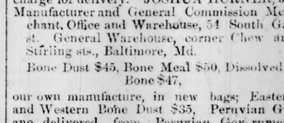
This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.



To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.



In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

To the Farmers and Planters of Maryland and the South generally.

HORNER'S MARYLAND SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

WE COURT THE CHEMIST'S INQUIRY.

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of this Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and everyway worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "Maryland" is a rejuvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residuum. There is no adulterator or inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay. For cotton, wheat, corn, and as a general stimulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land, there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market. Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery. THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Local and Personal.

☞ Dr. ANDREWS, the Dentist, has returned.

☞ Our Wardsville correspondent will have a hearing next week.

☞ A large Bear was captured in the Swamp near the City on Saturday morning last.

☞ The next annual Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church connection will be held at this place on 18th inst.

☞ We had a slight frost, the first of the season, Friday night. Not anything damaged.

☞ The next session of the Federal Court will be held in this City, commencing on Monday Oct. 23d.

☞ The Hotel at Nag's Head has closed for the season, the Steamer "Hertford" having made her last trip on Friday. All the families have returned.

☞ Our Devil insists that it is always proper when one is in doubt wether to kiss a pretty girl, to give her the benefit of the doubt. What an "imp" he is!

☞ Our Halifax correspondent may rest easy. We have long since been convinced, with old DEAN SWIFT, that "it is useless to attempt to argue a man out of a thing he was never reasoned into."

☞ We learn that SAMUEL IRONS colored, formerly of this place, was found dead in the streets in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th of July. The cause of his death unknown.

☞ B. F. KEATON has erected a new addition to his Store building which he designs filling up with Groceries &c. He is now North for goods.

☞ HENRY J. LANE, of Woodville was arrested on Monday on charge of abusing and threatning his wife and resisting the officers of the law. In default of $1000 bail he was lodged in jail at this place.

☞ The Post office at Rose Dale will from this time on, be supplied with a mail twice each week—on Tuesdays and Saturdays,—from South Mills. This will greatly accommodate the people of that section.

☞ The colored men of this county held a meeting in their Normal School building in this City on Monday evening to select delegates to the Edenton Convention which is held to day. They selected Charles Fearing, Elbert Price, Hugh Cale and Thos. A. Sykes.

☞ A colored man named NOAH JOHNSON, living on the South side of the new bridge on Factory Avenue, attacked his wife with a hatchet on Sunday night, inflicting several severe gashes on her head and hands. In the morning it was found that he had left town with another colored man's wife. A warrant was obtained from Mayor COBB. It is believed that he is in Virginia.

☞ Our townsman FRED PROCTOR, Esq., is a genius and considerable of a wag. He has read much, has studied harder and dived deeper into metaphysics than any man in Eastern Carolina. Ever and anon he gets off a good thing. On meeting a friend the other morning he jocosely inquired, "How many drinks have you had?" "Two." "Oh," replied our humorous friend, "I've had over twenty." "What of?" "Gin." "What quality did you indulge in?" "Oz-egen."

☞ We call special attention to the Rejoinder of his Honor Judge BROOKS—see our first page—to the appeal of the convicted Ku Klux for mercy. Not only did this trial convince his Honor that this bloody and murderous secret political organization has existed in certain portions of our State, but that its object was to advance the interests of the Democratic party. Nay more, the developments during the trial were such as to open the eyes of hundreds of honest Democrats who had hitherto been credulous respecting the existence and purposes of the "Invisible Empire," alias Ku Klux society, and is it any wonder that these will henceforth refuse to have anything to do with a party relying on such agencies for success?

☞ A short year ago every Democratic paper in the State was laden with fulsome eulogy of our excellent and most worthy townsman Hon. GEO. W. BROOKS. We left the matter pass without notice, preferring to wait and see whether the Ku-Klux chickens wouldn't, sooner or later, come home to roost. We knew his Honor to be an upright Judge and an honest man, and we even ventured to rebuke those who were disposed to denounce him. To-day these same Democratic papers have changed their tune—some of them roundly abusing his Honor, others are significantly mum! And why? Simply because he has conscientiously performed his duty—nothing more, nothing less. He gave the Ku Klux prisoners brought before him an impartial trial, they were fairly convicted, and he passed a just sentence upon them. And "that's what's the matter."

☞ One morning last week a vagrant known as Mr. M. O. USE was found dead in an out house in the Northern part of the City.

☞ "Our Senator" has explained. Because of its length, and the late hour handed in, our Foreman informs us that he can't find room for it this week. We regret this, but as it is interesting reading it wont spoil by laying over a week. Look out for our next issue. Orders for extra copies must be sent in early.

☞ The feeling here in favor of Northern immigration and towards Northern people has always been favorable and pleasant, and it is increasing. There is less of the sectionalism that has and is damaging the progress and prosperity of so many portions of the South, and more of a national sentiment in this locality than we have ever visited.

Rotary Ice Shaver,—C. C. CLAWSON, Raleigh.

Cotton Gin Attachment.—H. P. HARREL, Roxabel.

☞ On Monday a colored boy named WARREN SPRUILL, was arrested and brought before Mayor COBB on the charge of stealing flaxseed from BRADFORD & Co. CHARLES H. FITCH a Drayman who had carried the seed from SPRUILL'S house to the Store for sale was also arrested on the charge of knowing they had been stolen. He asseverated that he only acted in his capacity as public Drayman, and did not know at the time he loaded the seed that they were not the property of SPRUILL. Both parties were bound over to appear at the next term of Court.

☞ The health in this locality this season has been comparatively good—much better than many sections we hear from in the North. We are satisfied, that when once properly drained and cleared up as good farmers always do, these Eastern counties of North Carolina will be as healthy as any section North, East or West. As it is, we are almost exempt from those terrible lung diseases and dangerous fevers so incident to Northern latitudes, and when once filled up with an intelligent and industrious farming and manufacturing population we'll experience a proportionate diminution in attacks from malarial diseases.

LOCAL FORT-FOLIO

A bar room toast over a glass of ardent—"here's what makes us wear old clothes." Complaining—the Doctors of dull times. Very desirable—health, wealth and a cheerful spirit. Flowers that are always falling off—bachelors buttons. The best way to improve the lot of woman—put a good house on it, and a good man in the house. A serious charge—pew rent. The light of other days—candles. A popular loan—cologne. It can be obtained at Dr. Kreb's "Drug Emporium." Something to look at—yourself. A fine point—that of a needle. Switch tenders—hair pins. Much in brief—the alphabet. An unflattering portrait—a red nose. Simple addition—adding to one's family. Right and left wings of Democracy—the political Ku-Klux in the South and the financial Ku-Klux in New York.

Business Locals.

We know that for cleaning paint, windows, china and glassware; for polishing knives, tin, iron, brass and copper wares, and for removing stains from marble and procelain, and rust from machinery, Enoch Morgan's Sons' Sapolio is the best thing in use. 15—5t.

S. S. Fowler is now at the North purchasing a large and select stock of Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Trimmings and Notions, which will arrive in a few days. Be sure and call and see them before purchasing elsewhere.

DEATHS.

TURNER—At this place on the 2d, inst, Miss JOSEPHENE TURNER, aged 25 years and 2 Months.

Her death was not entirely unexpected as she had been a victim for years to that insidious foe to human life—Consumption. During the long months of her affliction she exhibited the beauty and glory of a christian life—resignation, contentment under suffering, fortitude, submission and hope.

She has passed away from earth and friends in the bloom of womanhood, she was not unprepared for the change. She had, at an early age, attached herself to the cause of Christ, and her whole life corresponded with the precepts of her Redeemer. Sincere sympathy extends itself to the afflicted household. Let them remember that their loss is her eternal gain.

The funeral service will take place this morning (Thursday,) at 10 o'clock.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TRUST WHAT TIME HAS SANCTIONED.—The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is the test of science, and is not of no question. Upon this testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments rests. During the last twenty years that it has been before the public it has never been surpassed and rarely equalled by any remedy of the kind. Its career has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagles flight—and its progress has revealed the progress of truth in physical science. Scarcely a form of disease, nervous affection, general debility, and as a preventative of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. Facts like these should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to reach the community until necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

A well timed and a very sensible article appeared in one of the back numbers of the Maryland Farmer; some months since, recommending farmers to make and repair their harness, a duty that could be accomplished during long winter evenings and stormy weather. The author's plan is to use rivets, instead of wax-ends. A punch, riveting hammer, and three different size rivets would be all that is required. A farmer would thus save 50 per cent and produce about as perfect work, as if purchased of a sadlery at the usual charges.

Oiling and "shining up" Harness ought to have attention during the winter months, preparatory to being used the following season. With all deference to the authors of the two recipes in the last December number of the Maryland Farmer, headed "Preserve the Harness" and "Varnish for Harness" permit me to say that the first recipe will do tolerable well; the second, in my estimation is ridiculous. Author number two says: "Half a pound India rubber, one gallon spirits of turpentine, and an equal quantity of linseed oil." Spirits of turpentine is a powerful dryer and astringent if applied to leather the leather will be rendered, in my opinion, as hard and dry as a shingle. As I have considered those two recipes in part, it is right to suppose I will be called upon for a better. I have applied the following mixture to my harness and boots, since I arrived at man's estate. In the first place, soak the harness over night—then scrub off with a stiff hair brush, warm water and soap. Apply warm, the following mixture: 6 oz. bees wax, 4 oz. rosin, 4 oz. spirits of turpentine, 1lb. tallow, 1lb. mutton suet, 2 oz. burgundy pitch, and 4 oz. linseed oil. The mixture will be improved by adding 4 oz. indian rubber, and probably the glutinous substance issuing from boiled calves or pigs feet; when the the wax, tallow, &c., are disolved add the turpentine and oil—what remains bottle up for applying to boots and shoes. If a polish be desired, make a thin paste of pulverized charcoal and spirits of turpentine. When the oiling preparation becomes dry, apply it, and follow with shoe blacking as usual.

Repairing and painting farming implements, wheel carriages, etc., is equally important. It has been the practice of implement makers for twenty years past to varnish their wares—a fashion introduced from Massachusetts. Varnish applied to wood is pleasing to the eye, but substituted for paint it is a serious loss to the farmer, whose voice ought to be raised, decidedly against the practice. Varnish applied to a plow for example, exposed to alternate wet and hot sun, will disappear before half the cultivating season expires. All implements exposed to the elements, ought to have two coats of paints. Better to pay a trifle extra than to have it otherwise.

A good and durable paint is made thus: 1 gallon white lead, 1 pint lampblack, with sufficient linseed oil to form a mixture, to the consistency of cream. By adding more or less lampblack, you will have e paint light, or dark lead color, as preferred; add a gill of spirits turpentine and a desert spoonful of lithrage, to act as dryers. I have said nothing concerning the importance of repairing and painting farm implements, too, etc. The necessity of which will be apparent to every observing and industrious farmer. —Maryland Farmer.

Sod as a Fertilizer.

During the last year I made a limited experiment in the use of grass sod as a fertilizer. It was desired to plant a piece of worn out land in cabbage. Home-manure was exhausted, and it was doubtful whether commercial fertilizers would pay on land so utterly destitute of humus and all other carbonaceous matter. Furrows were opened four feet apart with a one-horse turn plow, which was run twice each way, opening to a depth and width of about ten inches. The road sides were resorted to for wild sods, which were taken up with a spade, of a width to suit the furrow, and of such length as the toughness of the sod would allow. These were turned bottom upwards in the furrows, which were then filled full of loose earth with a hoe.

After the first rain, the plants, which were of good size, were dibbled into the loose earth, the roots reaching down generally to the sods. The plants gained a rapid growth within a few days, and the result was such a crop of cabbage as I have never seen produced except in soil in a high state of fertility previously, or made so for the special crop by a very liberal application of fertilizers. The sod was a source of both moisture and fertility, and maintained a thriftiness in the plants during a drowth which seriously affected adjoining crops.—Cor. Plantation.

To Cleanse Carpets.

Carpets that do not require to be taken up, should be loosened at the edge, and with a dust pan and brush, all the dust may be removed; if there are any traces of moths, wash the floor with strong turpentine or kerosene, putting the carpet down quickly, and the moths will have their quietus. The disagreeable odor will soon disappear if the windows are opened widely, and you can be certain that your carpets will not be ruined this Summer. This same burning fluid will drive out and keep away the moths from upholstered furniture. It can be put on with a cloth, and if pure will leave no stain, but brighten the colors. Before applying it, brush out the cushions with a hand brush, and damp cloth, to remove all the dust. Straw mattings should be washed with a cloth dampened in salt water. Take care not to wet it but little, for if the matting is soaked through it becomes brittle. If Indian meal is sprinkled over it, or damp sand, and then thoroughly swept out, it will also cleanse it finely.

A woman was walking, and a man looked at her and followed her. The woman said, "Why do you follow me?" He answered, "Because I have fallen in love with you." The woman said, "Why are you in love with me? My sister is much handsomer. She is coming after me; go and make love to her." The man turned back and saw a woman with an ugly face. Being greatly displeased, he went again to the other woman, and said, "Why did you tell a story?" The woman answered, "Neither did you speak the truth; for if you are in love love with me, why did you go after another woman?"

A young lady hesitated for a word in describing the character of a rejected suitor, said: "He is not a tyrant, not exactly domineering, but—" "Dogmatic," suggested her friend. "No, he has not dignity enough for that; I think pupmatic would convey my meaning admirably."

A Householder, in filling up his census schedule, under the heading "Where born," described one of his children as born in the parlor," and the other "up stairs"

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C, 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,60, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, bind it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water trausportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They Invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
